

Welcome to Government House, the residence of the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and the ceremonial home of all British Columbians.

During the tour, you will need to find the answer to the following ten questions about the role of the Lieutenant Governor and of Government House.

Good Luck!

The Role of Government House

This property has served as the site of three Government Houses since _____.

Government House serves as the _____ and _____ of the Lieutenant Governor.

Government House is where distinguished guests of the province, including the Governor General and members of the _____, stay when they visit British Columbia.

One of the most prestigious awards presented at Government House is called the _____ of British Columbia. Each year it is given to a number of British Columbians who have demonstrated outstanding excellence, achievement, or distinction in any field.

The Role of the Lieutenant Governor

The Lieutenant Governor is appointed by the _____ _____ on the advice of the Prime Minister.

After a bill has passed three readings and a committee stage in the Legislative Assembly, the Lieutenant Governor must provide _____ before the bill can become law.

One of the most important duties of the Lieutenant Governor is to ensure that we always have a functioning _____ in place.

After an election, the Lieutenant Governor traditionally calls upon the leader of the party who won the most seats in the Legislative Assembly to become _____ and to form government.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II is the Queen of Canada. She is the Head of the Commonwealth and Queen of _____ countries around the world.

Before a session of the Legislative Assembly can begin, the Lieutenant Governor must read the _____
_____.